

SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

It's most regrettable that the President and his party passed through what we believe the most beautiful part of their journey—the picturesque Sierra—at night. It was also most unfortunate that his train were confused not giving him an opportunity to greet the 150 or more Truckee residents who gathered at the depot here to meet the special train. Many managed to catch a glimpse of the nation's chief as the cars sped by but had hoped for a greeting. They may find solace in the telegram his secretary sent, offering regrets at not being able to stop and extending a cordial greeting to the citizens.

We are wholly in accord with the plan sponsored by the chamber of commerce to aid the less fortunate who stop here and at the same time aiding the community. In the future, under the worthy project, transients out of funds will be given an opportunity to do some honest labor in return for enough money to see them over the rough spot. At the same time Truckee's winter sports grounds will be given the necessary attention and beggars not inclined to work will soon avoid Truckee as an easy mark.

Fishing along the Truckee river and adjacent streams is at last coming into its own. While the fish being caught now on flies are not as large as the ones caught during the first of the season, more limits are available and amateurs are smiling in delight at results. Rumors that high waters last fall washed the small trout, planted earlier in the year, away, may be emphatically denied. The one trouble now faced by the community is providing for this year's crop. Funds gathered last year just missed paying Truckee's share of raising the 170,000 trout planted and it is hoped this sum may be added to contributions this year when it is hoped another 170,000 can be planted. Even without a full-time game warden, Truckee and the surrounding region still provides excellent fishing for visiting sportsmen but it entirely up to the community to keep that record.

Local Postal Receipts Show Marked Gain For Year, Postmaster Says

Gain For Year Shown Despite Reported Dull Trade Over Country

The Truckee post office in continuing to show substantial gains in receipts is proving that Truckee is not one of the many towns suffering from the so-called business depression. Postmaster E. C. Bavler reported that an increase of $3,219.89 has been shown for the quarter ending on June 30 as compared with the same period in 1937. The gross for the past three months was $22,897.75, she said. Of this amount money orders accounted for $17,357.69; postage was $1,779.36; box rents, $169.95; postal savings $2,672; and bonds $1,518.75. The gross business at the post office for the year was $99,772.28, Mrs. Bavler reported. This total was divided as follows: postage, $7,625.60; money orders, $72,870.63; box rents $641.05; postal savings, $14,060; bonds $4,575.

Three people who had been employed here for a few days are now in the county jail serving terms of 25 days as the result of being found guilty to charges of petit theft in the court of Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith last week.

They are Charles Osgood, Jr., 24, Jack Miller, 32, and the latter's wife Betty Miller, 30, who were arrested by State Patrolman C. E. McKeen for the theft of a quantity of silver ware from the California restaurant where the Millers had been employed.

Osgood applied at the checking station for a license and his actions aroused suspicion. A search of the car revealed the silver and Osgood implicated the Millers. He at first asked for a jury trial, but after a night in jail changed his plea and joined the Millers in the county's bastille, far more cozy than the one here.

Besides the silver, several napkins and tablecloths were found in the Millers' possessions. All were identified by A. Filipevic of the California restaurant.

An innovation in Truckee which is expected to relieve the annual epidemic of begging on the streets and provide a minimum amount of work for itinerants as well as putting the winter sports field in condition for the approaching season has been adopted by the Truckee Chamber of Commerce.

In the future, according to the plan suggested by C. S. Powell, who will supervise the required program. Only one or two hours work will be allotted each applicant. All residents and others are asked not to give the itinerants cash but direct them to the office where they will be cared for.

There is much work to be done at the winter sports field, Edmunds said, in pointing out the benefits to all concerned.

A PERMANENT WARDEN

One of the Governor's personal aides who visited here last week exclaimed in surprise when he was advised that this wide eastern Nevada County area, rich in natural resource, was left unprotected by game wardens much of the time. Others more familiar with local conditions have long wondered why this was allowed but, while much has been said on the subject, little has been done. We sincerely hope that the governor's emissary has sufficient interest in our problems to take some action toward correction of this situation.

If it proved nothing more it would at least evidence the desire of the powers that be to show us we are not after all the forgotten people, but still a part of the great state of California.

HOUSE-CLEAN HIGHWAYS

Let's clean house by the side of the road.

Other states fall into second place behind the beauty of our thousand roadways, banked by the rugged green of the mountain slopes. There's color and beauty aplenty under California's vast blue canopy. The open roadways which cover this magic domain belong to us. Let's keep them free of unsightly refuse.

Let's clean house at the side of the road!

TIME TO REGISTER

It's the American habit to grumble good humoredly about most everything. There never was a time when the grocer didn't occasionally crab about his potato, egg or butter market; when the banker, at intervals, didn't yearn to retire and let other people invest and lent and collect their own money.

Letting off steam is the great American prerogative. Our founding fathers recognized the fact and made provision for free speech in our Bill of Rights. But they, and other more modern statesmen, provided us with another privilege, and duty, of equal importance—that of helping make the laws of the land, to elect public officials, to maintain the governmental system we prefer.

The catch is, of course, that anyone desiring to exercise the privilege, has to vote. However engrossed in his personal pursuit of "life, liberty and happiness", he has to get to the polls and cast his ballot at election time. Further, if he wants a say about the affairs of government, he has to validate his vote by registering.

So, whether you are a Republican or a Democrat, a Socialist or Townsendite, you can be a good American only if your name is on the great register before deadline, July 21st. Whether you like the New Deal and want to vote for a Democrat, or dislike it and want the Republicans to carry on in California, you must register first. If you shouldn't, no American Bill of Rights gives you the right to grumble—you won't have earned the privilege.

The Hut, at Homewood, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Callender is enjoying excellent patronage these days, its popularity due in a large part to the fine dance numbers being dealt out by Bud Geary and his three assistants from the University of California. They will be on tap all summer, dance lovers invited down to revel in their unusual rhythms and enjoy a fine steak or chicken dinner. Callender constructing a new cabin and plans to erect more in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bear of San Francisco spent the weekend at Tahoe in the Sunnyside district.

Vacation bible classes are being conducted this week for youngsters and grownups in the Community center hall, conducted by Rev. Peterson and his wife. All are welcome.

That more consideration is being given Tahoe's highways and highway problems is evidenced by the visit of from Salinas where she taught school a member of an automobile association who brought with him for installation many new signs which the motorists are urged to observe and remember if accidents are to be decreased in this region.

We have letters this week from

James Wilson and Otis Hursey who went into the Rubicon river to fish on Sunday reported only mild success due to high water.

The Lloyd Yeakels of Lake Forest held a joyous reunion at their home here last week, one member of the family, Mrs. Waldo J. ## MRS. MURRAY SMITH EXPIRES AT HOME IN EASTERN STATE morning of June 29. A stroke similar to one she suffered here months before her departure, was believed to have been the cause. Mr. Smith is reported in poor health also and many good wishes for a speedy recovery are sent him along with the deepest expressions of sympathy from the entire lake populace.

Mrs. Smith, a native of Germany, was married in Reno while a cook at the old Tahoe Tavern, and with her husband made her home for many years in the vicinity of Tahoe City, during later years residing on the E. L. Oliver estate in the Sunnyside district during the winter months, moving to their own home at Lake Forest in the summer. A host of friends will regret her passing.

BABY BEAR CAUSES COMMOTION AS CAPTURE EFFECTED

TAHOE CITY, July 14.—Better than a three ring circus was the performance provided on Monday by Ferris Goggans, local painter, J. S. McClellan, his assistant, Arthur Delbo of Lake Forest and Lee Jackson employed at Dollar Point.

Chief actor in the three hour drama was 150 pound Ginger, four months old cinnamon bear who wandered away from mother to see the world on her own. We call her Ginger because of her color and her ability to match the famous screen actress by that name in peppy stepping and a knowledge of swing.

Ginger started her solitary excursion on Monday morning, her yen to dine at come of the better garage cans atop fashionable Dollar Hill getting the better of her judgment. Just how many she visited no one knows, but at the Frazee cottage, occupied for the month by Mr. and Mrs. Russell O'Hara and son and daughter of Vallejo, she ran into difficulties. For the can was a new one, with securely fastened top. Well wagger she regrets loitering over its tempting possibilities now, for Arthur Delbo, driving by sighted her. He met this correspondent and the fun started. With speed and caution we approached, ready to shoot at the psychological moment—but only with camera. Ginger eyed us suspiciously as we snapped her in various poses, balancing precariously on a narrow, rotted limb which creaked from time to time. Tiring of her position, she stood up, sat down, turned around and stood up again, her quaking knees buckled in fright. About this time Messrs Goggans, Jackson and McClellan arrived with ropes and ladders and after a flight up and down the tree for a height of 65 feet, a noose was finally placed over Ginger's head.

With much difficulty, fighting at every step, she was led by her captors both a social and financial success according to Henry F. Droste, who said a net profit of close to $120 had been made. So elated were the center's five trustees that it is planned to hold regular Saturday night dances every week throughout the summer.

Gammick's orchestra provided the excellent music. Watch for the announcement of the next dance in the Sierra Sun.

It was lots of fun even if the writer did rip all the lace from her petticoat and suffer a sprained ankle while rushing around for pictures.)

-California Political Review-*Politically Speaking

by John W. Dunlap
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, July 14.—(UP)—If you want to learn about patience from a man who really knows how to wait, go up to Folsom prison and talk to Guard Captain William J. Ryan.

Right now things are looking up for Ryan. There is a pretty well authenticated report that he will soon assume the wardenship at Folsom, known throughout the nation as one of the country's toughest institutions. Under present plans, Warden Clyde I. Plummer will move to Chino to direct the state's new southern California prison for first offenders, as soon as buildings are completed.

The veteran guard captain has traveled a long road toward the wardenship. He was hero of the attempted break last September which cost the lives of Warden Clarence Larkin, Guard Harry Martin and two convicts. In addition five other convicts are under death sentence for their part in the affair.

For his courage during the break Ryan was the popular choice to succeed Larkin. Faced with convict knives and two dummy automatic pistols which looked every inch on the level, the guard captain experienced the same courage as his six-foot, four inch chief and defied the men. Indeed, he said after a closer look at the guns, "I knew they were phonies, so I grabbed my cane and started swinging."

When Larkin succumbed from a dozen knife thrusts and other injuries and Ryan gradually won his way back to health from his own serious hurts, there was a concerted drive to secure his appointment. Meanwhile, the matter assumed a political tinge and after weeks of jockeying and delay the state prison board nominated Clyde I. Plummer, former Los Angeles police captain to replace Larkin.

Whatever the background that motivated Plummer's appointment, however, his record at Folsom has been good. There have been no breaks attempted, and the only serious incident occurred when a "stir crazed" negro convict killed a guard in the prison quarry with a pick axe.

When Plummer got the job, Ryan just smiled and said he would continue to do his best under the new man. The board assured him the Folsom post would go to him "when Ryan regains his health and the prison at Chino is built."

A recent poll of the prison directors indicated the board would fulfill its promise. A majority has expressed individual views to this effect but are said to differ on whether the transfer will be effected within 90 days or next year.

Director Edward L. Abbott of Santa Barbara said he believed Ryan

Little Opposition

Hon. Franck C. Jordan

Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan of Auburn is conceded better than an even chance of serving another term despite the fact that he is one of the oldest Republicans in the elective service in California. In the 1934 general election he polled 1,889,620 votes. Jordan has been the state service since 1903 and is regarded as one of finest officials in the state.

would be made Folsom warden within three or four months with Plummer assigned to Chino to supervise construction of the new prison. Abbott said he favored the idea.

Although expressing his personal opposition to Plummer, T. N. Harvey of Bakersfield, former board president said he thought the plan would be carried out.

"Undoubtedly Plummer will be transferred," Harvey said. "I believe I am the only member of the board opposed to him. I've stated my reasons before, when Plummer was appointed, I don't think he has the executive ability necessary. I don't think he is a competent man for the job. But other board members set a job. But other members of the board, I'm sure, will vote for Plummer's transfer to Chino, with Ryan succeeding him."

Board member Donald Koltz of Los Angeles supported Abbott's views and warmly endorsed Plummer's administration at Folsom.

A. R. O'Brien of Ukiah said he would vote for Ryan whenever a change is in order.

Board Chairman John D. McGilivray of San Francisco, a recent appointee, said the plan has not been discussed since he became a member.

Plummer's appointment stirred one of the most bitter political controversies in California in recent years. In northern California particularly, which favored Ryan as a resident of this section, most of the resentment was directed at the Merriam administration.

Although the governor issued flat denials of any attempt to influence the board in its choice; at least two of his lieutenants worked openly for Plummer's selection.

SACRAMENTO, July 7.—(UP)—Support of the Salinas rodeo, horse show and stock show was urged today in a proclamation issued by Governor Frank F. Merriam. He decreed the week beginning July 13 Horse-manship Week.
